HAPPY THRONGS AT CHAUTAUQUA TENT

"Heart and Harp Strings" Is Entertaining Feature of the Opening Yesterday

LOP SIDED FOLKS TONIGHT

Dr. George R. Stuart Will Deliver His Famous Lecture at the Big Tent This Evening

PROGRAM THIS EVENING

7:30—Concert by Royal Hugarian orchestra.

8:15—Lecture on "Lop-sided Folks," by Dr. George R. Stuart.

PROGRAM TOMORROW.

9 a. m.—Seton Indian work.

10:45 a. m.—Lecture on "Whittier" by Prof. George R. Laird.

2:30 p. m.—Music by the Concert Trio.

3:00 p. m.—Lecture, "The Needs of the Home" by Judge Leo D. Alden.

7:30 p. m.—Concert, The Concert Trio.

8:15 p. m.—Picture Play, "Lorna Doone," Albert Armstrong.

The Chautauqua's opening day was all that could be desired. Opening in the afternoon with an attendance of fully 600 the Cole-Steele entertainers presented a program which captured the audience. Mr. Steele possesses a bass voice of splendid compass and power which he uses effectively. "The Anvil Song" as rendered by him is a speaking production and every number was artistically given.

Mrs. Steele, as an elocutionist, is eminently pleasing and in her memory readings she captures her audience in spite of the fact that her voice has hardly timbre enough in it for an outdoor crowd.

At the evening concert Mr. Steele was at his best, the opening number of "The Mighty Deep" winning the sympathies of the big crowd for other renderings. Mrs. Steele, too, was particularly pleasing in her catchy recitals, and her charming personality won the crowd instantly.

Hearts and Harps

Dr. Monroe Markley, who has made his mark as a preacher and platform orator hails from Denver. He has a fine presence, a strong voice and a pleasing personality. His lecture was devoted to music which he claimed as the noblest and most natural of all arts.

There is much humor and an occasional strain of pathos in Dr. Markley's address. He is a lover of music and while he tells us that if he were to "play the piano it would have a moving effect upon his audience," and if he sang them a solo the audience would probably "move him," yet he shows that he appreciates the best things in music. His historic sketch of music is instructive and his claim for hymnology as an expression of true worship is more effective.

That it is supreme in the realm of theology and knows no sect he showed by quoting Toplachy, who as a Calvinist wrote: "Rock of Ages Cleft for Me," and Wesley, the American, who wrote, "Jesus Lover of My Soul," while a Unitarian wrote "Nearer My God to Thee," and the Catholic cardinal, Newman, wrote, "Lead Kindly Light," and all sects unite in singing all these hymns.

The Seton Indian Work.

This morning at 9 o'clock Miss Mabel Payton commenced the study of nature with the children, including lessons in bird life, trees, leaves, stars, etc. This is made attractive by organizing under Indian names and the fact of that race being so close to nature gives picture and novelty to it. The name of Seton has been applied through the interest of Seton Thompson on the subject.

Two tribes are formed called Omahees and Ojibways and entries are made with all the privileges of members to children from 6 to 14 years of age at a fee of one dollar.

Morning Study Lectures.

Those who value closer study and real merit of instructive lecture work miss much if they do not take in Prof. George R. Laird's morning lectures which are to be given each day at 10:45.

Prof. Laird is a scholar and a reader who furnishes the most solid of all the work of this Chautauqua. His lectures for this week commenced this morning with the subject of The Democracy of Literature. The lecture was a masterpiece of rapid review of the democratic basis of the greater literature. Great writers, he said come from the people or are in close touch with them.

Tracing the history of literature of the Greeks he referred to the word democracy as a Greek term and quoted from Pericles as the great

MANKATA POLICE FEAR A LYNCHING

Farmers of Nearby Minnesota City Aroused Over Brutal Murder of H. J. Ledbeter by Wife

FOUR PEOPLE IMPLICATED

Hired Man Says Woman Slew Husband for Love of Him, but Another Motive Is Found

MANKATO, Minn., June 29.—Special Deputy Sheriffs, armed with Krag-Jorgenson army rifles, secured from the local armory, are today guarding the Mankato jail to prevent possible violence toward any of the four prisoners charged with the murder of H. J. Ledbeter.

The prisoners, against whom formal information was filed today, are Mrs. Ledbeter, wife of the murdered man, Frank Smith, hired man, William Schwandt, and Mrs. William Schwandt, the latter Mrs. Ledbeter's sister.

It is hardly expected that a lynching is planned by Ledbeter's farmer neighbors, who are horrified over the discovery of his burtal murder, but threats have been made and the authorities are taking no chances.

Inquest This Afternoon

An inquest in the case was scheduled for late this afternoon, the jury having been sworn in this morning, when the jurors visited the Ledbeter farm, where Ledbeter's body was found buried in a potato patch.

As the authorities delve into the case less credence is given Smith's confession that Mrs. Ledbeter killed her husband because of her infatuation for Smith. The hired man, however, sticks to his original story that Mrs. Ledbeter went to his room the night Ledbeter was killed and told him she had slain her husband so she could have Smith's love.

A Business Dispute

Schwandt, brother-in-law of the murdered man, denies any complicity in the crime but P. A. Ledbeter, the brother who is pushing the investigation, says there were business differences between the two, Schwandt having some months ago been manager of a general store in which Ledbeter was interested. Before his death Ledbeter began court proceedings against Schwandt for $5,000 alleged to have been lost in the business by Schwandt.

Schwandt says he was awakened the night of the murder by Mrs. Ledbeter calling for Smith, as she said prowlers were about the house. Schwandt says he locked his door and went to sleep, denying any knowledge of the murder or of assisting, as Smith said he did, in the removal of the body from the first burying place in the barn to the potato patch.

Man Too Dirty to Love

Further than to deny Smith's statement with the answer: "I wouldn't love such a dirty man," Mrs. Ledbeter has made no statement regarding the murder of her husband. Mrs. Schwandt refuses to talk.

The authorities took Smith to the Ledbeter farm this morning and went over the ground with him, plying him with questions but eliciting nothing essentially different from his original confession.

VON BUELOW TIRES OF CABINET DUTIES

BERLIN, June 29.—Prince von Buelow authorized the announcement on Monday that he intends to retire from the chancellorship of the empire soon as the pending tax measure is disposed of in one way or another. The prince remains in office only temporarily in an endeavor to pass the bill.

Emperor William has not given consideration as yet to the question of a successor to the chancellorship. The most probable choice, however, is Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, imperial secretary of state for the inter and vice chancellor.

BUTTE, Mont. June 29.—Dominick Berotti was killed today by falling face down upon a long stemmed pipe. The stem was forced through into his mouth so hard that the end of it came out of his neck behind the ear.

SUGAR TRUST IS TO ESCAPE PENALTY

NEW YORK, June 29.—With the failure of the federal grand jury to file any indictments in the investigation of the American Sugar Refining company, and the departure of U. S. Attorney Wise for Europe on the Kaiser Wilhelm II. this morning, it is generally conceded that the probabilities of criminal action against the sugar trust are slight.

"LAME BOB" KILLED WOODILL WOMAN AFTER EXTORTION

MRS. EDITH MAY THOMPSON WOODELL.

CORONER'S JURY LEAVES CASE OPEN

ST. MICHAELS, Md., June 29.—The haste with which the creditors of Robert E. Eastman, suicide and supposed murderer of Edith May Thompson Woodill, swooped down upon his bungalow to secure the property, has probably delayed the investigation of the Talbot authorities until it is too late to decide with legal certainty whether any one else but Eastman was implicated in the murder at Broad creek.

The members of the jury of inquest are indignant and declare that this action has probably stopped the investigation and will delay it so long that it will be impossible to pick up again the thread of evidence that might lead to a clear solution of the crime.

CINCINNATI NOW ON DAYLIGHT PLAN

CINCINNATI, O., June 29.—The city council has passed an ordiance which provides that at 2 o'clock in the morning on May 1, 1910, the hands of the clock be turned forward an hour and shall remain so until October 1, when they will be turned back again. Until the whole country adopts the new daylight schedule, however, Cincinnatians will have to figure train schedules according to the present way of computing time. Although clocks in Cincinnati will register 9 o'clock it will continue to be 8 for the railroads and Cincinnati people have to reckon the departure in that way. Cincinnati is the first city in the United States to adopt the new schedule. It is thought others will follow until turning the clock forward becomes a national custom. The benefits to be derived from more daylight according to its advocates are as follows:

Health and physical welfare are promoted if the activities of life begin early in the day as nature intends. Additional time during daylight is gained for rest and recreation, the use of parks and playgrounds during the hot months and all forms of recreation projected on larger lines. The farmers, who represent almost one-half of the population, and who practically live by this summer schedule, are enabled to transact business in the city that much earlier. Workmen will have more time at their own command during the daylight.

NEW YORK, June 29.—Sun Chann, a short haired, Americanized Chinese, is named in the suit for divorce filed by Frank B. Mrs. Paulsen says that while she knows the Chinese her relations have never been improper.

BRANDENBURG NOT GUILTY, IS VERDICT

NEW YORK, June 29.—Broughton Brandenburg, magazine writer, charged with grand larceny in getting $500 from the New York Times for what he said was a letter from the late President Cleveland, was found not guilty this afternoon at 2:45. Brandenburg was immediately rearrested on the charge of kidnaping his stepson in St. Louis.

TO WASH THE DIRTY RIVER DES PERES

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 29.—The river Des Peres is to be washed once a month. That is the plans adopted by the mayor and city council. It will take 2,000,000 gallons to wash out the river each month but the authorities believe it will make living in the vicinity more bearable.

The river Des Peres is a litle stream that runs through St. Louis. Sometimes it is such a river that it pickes up houses along its course and carries them away and sometimes it is so small that the shallow pools that remain give off an odor that health officers say means typhoid. So the river will be washed.

THREATEN OTHER BOMB OUTRAGES

Chicago Newspaper Gets Threatening Letter and Chief Shippy May Lose His Job

CIVILIAN IS NEW CANDIDATE

Secretary to Mayor Busse Is Said to Be "Favorite" for the New Appointment

CHICAGO, June 29.—Every effort to capture the persons guilty of the dynamite explosion here Sunday night which resulted in $150,000 damage was proved unsuccessful but the police today are continuing the search.

A reward of $3,000 was offered at a meeting of the city council last night.

The report that Chief of Police Shippy will resign because of inability of the department to stop the throwing of bombs, is believed to be unfounded but the resignation of the chief is expected at any time because of his ill health.

It is reported today that when Chief Shippy resigns, his post will not go to a member of the police department but to a civilian. Bernard J. Mulleney, secretary to Mayor Busse and former newspaper reporter, is regarded as the "favorite" for the place. There is also a report that Chicago may try New York's idea and place military men at the head of the department.

A warning postal card purporting to come from the person responsible for Sunday night's dynamite outrage and threatening a new and more terrific explosion was received by a local newspaper early today.

"The next will be a double header," the postal card read, "and will be close enough for the chief and his boss to see it sputter."

The postal states that the whole series of dynamite outrages was planned to arouse public sentiment against the gamblers' poolroom and handbook men in Chicago. The police profess not to believe this, however stating that they are sure the latest bomb was thrown as the result of labor troubles.

WHO IS MYSTERIOUS DE ESTOINAY WOMAN?

NEW YORK, June 29.—A special inquiry has been started at Ellis Island into the antecedants of the Marquise de Reymonde, in an effort to unravel the mystery with which the beautiful young woman has seen fit to surround herself.

With 14 trunks and plentifully supplied with money the woman arrived several days ago in the first cabin of the Green steamer Themistocles. On some of her trunks was the name "Madeline de Estoinay," while others bore the crests and name of Marquise de Reymonde. The inspector who examined her remembered that when the Oceanic arrived several weeks ago there was on board a man who gave the name of Edouard de Raymonds, who was detained at Ellis Island until he could give a satisfactory account of himself. He questioned the woman about this man and her answers were so evasive she was sent to Ellis Island until an investigation can be made.

Immediately after the woman was detained de Reymonde appeared at Ellis Island and sought to have the woman allowed to enter. He gave a fictitious address and the authorities decided to delay the woman pending further investigation.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 29.—With but one more day remaining of the fiscal year, Uncle Sam finds a deficit of a little over $94,000,000 instead of $110,000,000 as had been figured by his treasury experts last fall when the estimated for the year to end tomorrow were sent to the appropriation committe of congress.

NORMAL CONDITION IS RESTORED TODAY

Old Men Back at Their Posts on Street Cars and Wide Satisfaction Is Expressed

BIG DEMONSTRATION GIVEN

Union Men Taken About the City and Receive Big Bouquets and Cheers

Owing to the fact that the carmen went over the lines last night in a body and acquainted almost all of the citizens with the fact that the lockout is over and they are again friendly to the company, the cars of the La Crosse City Railway company and the La Crosse and Onalaska Railway company are being well patronized today and normal conditions have been restored.

Residents of the north side made a great demonstration when the carmen, on board the large open car and trailers, made their victorious appearance in that part of the city. This was the first car which had been operated in that section of the city for several days, with the exception of two which were brought out Monday morning, and the residents prepared a welcome which surprised the carmen. Huge boquets were thrown and handed to the men and an enthusiastic crowd of sympathizers cheered them continuously as they passed through the north side streets.

This morning the men all appeared for work at the usual hour and were restored to their old positions, cars running on schedule time.

Merchants throughout the city express general satisfaction over the reconciliation and say that business is gradually recovering from the setback it received during the strike.

The remaining points of difference will be settled between the executive committee of the men and the company. They are the fixing of a wage scale for the coming year, the determining of a fair manner of appointing a committee representing the employes of the company, the

TARIFF BILL DONE; INCOME TAX NEXT

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 29.—Tillman's amendment to place a duty of ten cents a pound on tea was defeated in the senate 18 to 55. Two democrats, Bailey and Tillman, and 16 republicans voted for it. Smith (R., Mich.,) gave notice that he would offer later a provision to pay a bounty for five years on every pound of tea produced in this country.

Following this, at 2:30 this afternoon, Chairman Aldrich announced that the tariff schedules had all ben disposed of.

The income tax amendment was thereupon called up for consideration.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 29.—An effort to obtain precedence for his income tax amendment to the constitution made by Senator Brown (R., Neb.) in the senate today failed, after which Senator Aldrich took the floor and gave notice that he would oppose the consideration of any more amendments to the tariff schedules. The debate was warm, Owen scoring Aldrich for cutting off amendments of importance.

The senate then took up Tillman's amendment, presented yesterday, to place a tax of ten cents a pound on tea, which, by special agreement, was to be considered today.

I HOPE IT BLINDS YOU IS BOMB INSCRIPTION

CINCINNATI, June 29.—An infernal machine was sent through the mails today to Rev. G. R. Robbins of the Lincoln Park Baptist church who has actively preached agains corporations.

"I hope this will blind you," read a note in a box containing the machine, "stop your triade against out employers."

Skull and Cross bones inscriptions were at the bottom of the note. A number of glass eyes such as are placed in dolls heads were in the box. The machine was a clever contrivance arranged so a pile of powder would explode when the box lid was opened.

A match so placed as to light when the box was opened failed to work. Police and government inspectors are investigating.

CAR MEN WIN BIG PITTSBURG STRIKE

Short Runs Will Be Reduced 50 Per Cent by Terms of Agreement Made Last Night

ARBITRATE CASE OF ASHFORD

This Is Only Concession Made by Strikers Who Win a Satisfactory Victory

Basis of settlement:

The number of "schort" runs will be reduced 50 per cent on entire system. There are 213 short runs in the present schedule. The company has until July 2 to reduce these to 106. The men withdrew their objection to emergency runs or short runs made during change of schedule.

That Sunday runs shall not be longer than the week day schedules.

That Motorman Ashford, discharged of drinking while in uniform, shall be reinstated pending the arbitration of his case and that the arbitrators have until August 1 to reach a decision. That Conductor Halbott, suspended on charges of refusal to help remove an obstruction to traffic, which the men claim they have disproved, be paid in full for the time of his suspension.

That Conductor McGibboney, who lost seniority, be restored to his place on the company's payroll.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 29.—Pittsburg's street car famine lasted just fifty hours. Final settlement of all difficulties between the Pittsburg Railway company and the striking motormen and conductors was affected at 1:15 last night, following a conference lasting practically all day between Mayor Wm. A. Magee and representatives of the disputing factions.

At 5 o'clock this morning every car on the entire system started running after a complete tie up of two days. There is no doubt but that the striking employes won their fight. Practically the only concession made by the strikers was the agreement to leave to arbitration the final decision in the case of Motorman Ashford, who was discharged for drinking while in uniform. One concession after another was made by the traction officials. The most valuable point gained by the men was the agreement of the company to reduce the number of "short" runs fifty per cent by July 2. Till the very last minute the officials of the railroad company were skeptical over the prospects for peace notwithstanding the optimism displayed by Mayor Magee and the strikers' conferees so

The Outcasts applied the calcimine for 18 innings straight yesterday afternoon, winning both games in the double header with Joe Killian's bunch of scrapers at the League park before the largest attendance in the past three weeks.

Wolford, the local slab artist, held the visitors down to six scattered hits and at no time was the game in danger. The support of the local aggregation was great, a fact that aided materially in the winning of the second game in which the La Crosse boys were outbatted.

Pitcher Converse, who started the game for the up river team, was forced to retire in the second inning because of a bad smash on the finger. He was replaced by Nelson, who pitched good ball, but the greater part of the damage had already occurred. Nelson's place in the field was taken by Domborski.

The locals started the merry-go-round business in the first inning and before the smoke had cleared away a total of six runs had been piled up. Malloy slammed a two-bagger to the sun garden and was sacrificed to third by Wilhelm. Klein hit to left field, scoring Malloy. Safford advanced Klein to second on a hit to Graves. Eddie Kline was safe on first on an error by the first baseman, which let Klein across the plate with another count. Barlow slammed out a peach, scoring Safford and Eddie Kline. The ex-Freeporter was caught between home and third, but slammed the ball with his hand as it was thrown by Moore and scored. Matt, who had received a free pass, went to second while Barlow was traveling home. Kraher slammed one to short and while he was being thrown out at first the new short-stop scored another run. Wilford received free transportation, and Malloy ended the scoring by flying out to third base.

In the eighth Roy Klein, who had hit to center field, scored on hits by Safford and Eddie Kline.

The Clippers were unable to get even close to scoring. When they did get hits they were so well scattered that no runs resulted. The score:

Second Game

The second game was the better of the two, Southpaw Byers, who was on the mound for Winona, holding the locals down to three hits throughout the contest. Pfeffer pitched good ball and received excellent support and at no time was there any danger of the Clippers scoring. Winona got but one man as far as third base in the second game and he was unable to finish the circuit.

La Crosse got its first score in the first. Malloy flied out to Goodman. Wilhelm struck out and Roy Klein received a pass. On a two-bagger by Safford Klein scored. Eddie Kline flied out to right field.

The Outcasts received the other two counts in the fifth. Kraher got a base on balls but died on the throw from Curtis to Daley, who had covered second when Pfeffer slammed one to first. Malloy flied out to Graves. On Welhelm's hit to right field, Pfeffer scored. Roy Klein was safe on first on an error by Love, scoring "Rabbitt" Wilhelm. Safford was out, Love to Curtis. NOTES OF THE DIAMOND

This afternoon Duluth played the opening game here. The attendance which has been lacking should increase noticeably now that the fans can feel free to ride the street cars. The attendance at the game yesterday was the best for several weeks.

Baillies and Crangle, who have been suspended by President Elliott, were fired from the bench yesterday and later when seen in the grand stand by Umire Osborne, they were forced to leave the grounds.

Matt plays the fastest ball seen around short this season. The little fellow got one hit, six putouts, six assists and no errors in yesterday's games.

Barlow is playing the greatest fielding game around first that has been seen here since the days of Konetchy. His one hand stabs yesterday were sensational and saved runs for La Crosse. He also made a double play unassisted and participated in two more with the assistance of Kraher, whose fielding seems to be improving daily.

Carlisle made a sensational catch in the first inning of the second game. After running for a long distance the right fielder gut his mitts on the sphere, stumbled, rolled over and came up smiling, with the ball still in his hands. The applause which he received from the stands was well deserved.

Curtis made a sensational stop when he got Malloy's hot grounder in the eighth inning.

Pfeffer showed that he was right on the job in the eighth inning when he stopped the red hot grounder off the stick which Moore was using and threw him out at first.

Umpire Osborne was the real goods in yesterday's game. He has a quiet manner of handling the players which made a favorable impression with the fans. The scrappy spirit of Killian's bunch was not very noticeable in yesterday's games. Moore and Curtis were assessed $5 apiece for kicking on several decisions. After the tax had been levied the Winona players refrained from further demonstration.

President Rooney has signed a new pitcher by the name of Torrance. He is a large specimen of manhood and if the dope is right he is there with the hurling arm.

NO WONDER SHE'S CROSS

The woman who has a thousand petty cares and annoyances while she suffers with headache or sideache must not be blamed if she cannot always be angelically amiable. What she needs is thoughtfulness from her family and such a simple and natural remedy as Lane's Family Medicine, the herb tea that makes weak women strong and well. Sold by druggists and dealers, 25c.

The Tenderfoot Farmer

It was one of these experimental farmers, who put green spectacles on his cow and fed her shavings. His theory was that it didn't matter what the cow ate so long as she was fed. The questions of digestion and nourishment had not entered into his calculations.

It's only a "tenderfoot" farmer that would try such an experiment with a cow. But many a farmer feeds himself regardless of digestion and nutrition. He might almost as well eat shavings for all the good he gets out of his food. The result is that the stomach grows "weak" the action of the organs of digestion and nutrition are impaired and the man suffers the miseries of dyspepsia and the agonies of nervousness.

To strengthen the stomach, restore the activity of the organs of digestion and nutrition and brace up the nerves, use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is an unfailing remedy, and has the confidence of physicians as well as the praise of thousands healed by its use.

In the strictest sense "Golden Medical Discovery" is a temperance medicine. It contains neither intoxicants nor narcotics, and is as free from alcohol as from opium, cocaine and other dangerous drugs. All ingredients printed on its outside wrapper.

Don't let a dealer delude you for his own profit. There is no medicine for stomach, liver and blood "just as good" as "Golden Medical Discovery."

"WE RIDE"

The settlement of the street car strike is a cheering incident. It is an unfortunate fact that car strikes cannot be maintained without injury to the entire business public and annoyance and hardship to the men, to the company and to its patrons. The entire city was interested in the outcome of the strike, and it is equally happy over the termination of the struggle. The terms may not be exactly what either party to the controversy wanted, but each will gain in knowledge of how to give and take, in appreciation of the relationship of employer and employe with all its responsibilities, enough to offset any small disagreements. A fine spirit of meeting half way was displayed, which stamps those involved in the controversy as men of temperance and deliberation.

There were developed in the strike some things that were more or less surprising. For instance, the almost solid stand of the public for the men, which went to the extent of depriving themselves of the benefits of the car system, would hardly have been predicted. The people of La Crosse were almost unanimous in the matter and the moral influence of their open support doubtless exerted a big influence in reaching the settlement.

Another surprise was the discovery that La Crosse is not unlike other cities in having an element which courts opportunity for destruction. People heard with surprise of cars being smashed up in this peaceful place. While union sympathizers may have let their zeal carry them into this bad business, the accepted evidence is that most of the violence was done by irresponsible parties who merely accepted a chance to indulge a destructive tendency. The union men, and the carmen in particular, conducted themselves with a fine show of moderation and decency, and their behavior is appreciated.

The victory in the fight was with the men. They fought gamely and intelligently, and they deserved to win. But it is manifest that the company's officials are not disgruntled. The statement of Mr. Edwards is entirely conciliatory, and the whole attitude of the corporation shows a desire and purpose to resume harmonious co-operation with the employes.

La Crosse has in no way been injured by the strike, it has been at worst embarrassed a little. The outcome has been good, and if the better understanding of the men by the company, and of the company by the men, shall prove lasting, the benefits will have been cheaply bought. Today the situation has changed from strife to peace; everybody is smiling, and the slogan is:

"WE RIDE!"

CHAUTAUQUA.

That men are inspired to initiatory movements for common needs has been many times demonstrated in modern history. This is as true of moral and educational interests as of science and material progress.

Just as Howe anticipated the domestic call for sewing machines and Edison the demand for electric appliances, so George Williams met in advance the young man's cry for a Christian club within his means and gave him the Y. M. C. A., which in turn became the model for the modern young woman and now we have the Y. W. C. A. These have been followed by the Young People's societies which were conceived in the fertile mind of Father Endeavor Clarke.

Not less significant is the development of the Chautauqua movement initiated and fostered by Bishop Vincent, the versatile genius of the Methodist church of America.

The very word Chautauqua has lost its Indian significance and now stands for a many-sided institute of pleasure and profit. It is an important and valuable conservator of the best things in our modern civilization, standing as it does for good citizenship in the very highest and best sense.

It meets the school and the library exactly at a point where they are in danger of losing their grip on the people, for it is when men and women enter into the strenuous life of business and the anxious cares of domestic affairs that they are liable to drop out of the intellectual currents and drift into sheer indifferentism.

The Chautauqua has come to save us from this by its many sided adaptations to the social life, mental activities and citizen claims. Its numerous summer camps meet us just at the critical point of vacation days. There is a rational, edifying and positively elevating quality in this peripetetic movement which comes into our pleasure resorts and even into the very center of our cities with something of the swing and animation of the circus but with an immeasurably higher mission and value. Under the canvas tent in the pavilion or the summer camp here is a magnificent business enterprise which brings the nation's oratory and the best of intellectual and musical talent within the reach of the common people.

Think of a whole seven days' program with three sessions each day and each session furnishing two or more numbers of first rate talent within the reach of a whole city at a cost which would only give a seat for a single performance or lecture under ordinary circumstances. The program now presented in La Crosse actually furnishes twenty-one different speakers and combinations of entertainment, the cost of any one of which would be equal under ordinary circumstances to the entire charge for the whole program.

SPOTLIGHTS

The Dixie Troubadours

The Burlington, Ia., Evening Gazette of June 21st, has the following comment upon the appearance there of the Dixie Troubadours, who appear at the La Crosse theater tomorrow evening:

"The Dixie Troubadours opened a four days' engagenment at the Coliseum last evening under the most auspicious circumstances. This high class company of colored people is equal in every way to the Williams and Walker aggregation and their entertainment is one that should be seen by everyone in town. They have been lavishly heralded as the best in the country and individually and collectively they have fumilled all expectattions. The audience of 1,100 people who witnessed and were duly delighted with the initial production expressed no regrets. From the start to the finihh of the entertainment there was something doing and it was something good.

"The production is a musical comedy in two acts entitled "A Trip to New Orleans," with a spider web plot but it affords sufficient opportunity to introduce pleasing songs dances, speciaties and choruses that display an advanced degree of talent. There are twenty musical numbers in the piece and they are al new and catchy.

"One of the greatest treats of the evening was the singing of Sarah Green, "the Alabama nightingale," a prima donna whose work cannot fail but please the most fastidious music lovers. George Taylor is a comedian who is funy in every word and gesture. He has been generously endowed with bright and witty lines and makes the most of his opportunties.

"Billy Young is a veteran minstrel, but his voice is a clear and rich as of yore. He has a high tenor of exquisite sweetness. W. A. Cooke, the tramp comedian, in another of the funmakeras who kept the audience laughing and the beauty Creole chorus is composed of sprightly, shapely and handsome young women who can sing and dance to perfection.

"The burlesque on the Merry Widow waltz by George Taylor and W. A. Cooke was enjoyed to the utmost.

"These are only a few of the good things in the show. Every song and every dance was good and the people are fortunate in being able to witness such a stering attraction for the trivial price of admission.

Tomorrow evening there will be a real cake walk competition. The company will participate and it will be an earnest contest. The big cake to be awarded as a prize is on exhibition in Glick's window and some steps never seen before in this city will be introduced."

At The Bijou

Mae Melbane has the difficult part of opening the performance, but with her excellent voice and neat stage appearance she leaves a favorable impression with the audience.

Lindstrom and Anderson put on a high class novelty acrobatic act, which is interspersed with comedy of the laughable sort. Their tumbling is better than the ordinary vaudeville kind and receives an unusual amount of applause. The larger of the troupe is a magnificent example of manhood being tall and well developed. His stunt of jumping on a chair which is placed on top of a table is something out of the ordinary.

Lillian Doone, who deals in mental telepathy is certainly mysterious. She does everything from adding a large number of figures on a black board running into the millions, to reading questions which people in the audience have written on paper and torn up, giving the answer which is expected to prove true in time. Her feature last evening was perhaps, the telling of the correct time, to the second, while she was blindfolded.

The Woods-Ralton company of three musicians put on as good a musical act as has been seen at the Bijou this season. The little negro member of the troupe as the comedian makes an instantaneous hit with the audience hending over real jokes at which the audience can laugh without an effort. Their rendition of the "Anvil Chorus" and the "Mocking Bird" on the xylophone is excellent and a performance is deserving of the applause which it rarely fails to receive.

Meyer Levi sang in excellent voice by request, the song "Some One Loves You Dear."

BLADDER TROUBLES NEED PROMPT ATTENTION

Perhaps you don't know how much work is required of your kidneys and bladder or of how much importance they are. Do you know that on these important organs hinges good health? Many an apparently strong, healthy man or woman has been stricken without notice by serious kidney and bladder disease only to realize too late what might have been prevented with proper care and attention.

Some of the early symptoms of weak kidneys and bladder are lumbago, rheumatism, catarrh of the bladder, pain or dull ache in the back, joints or muscles, at times have headache or indigestion, dizziness, you may have a sallow complexion, puffy or dark circles under the eyes, sometimes feel as though you had heart trouble, may have plenty of ambition but no strength, get weak and waste away.

If you find you have some of the symptoms mentioned, you need then a remedy that will reach the seat of the disease and at the same time build up the system generally.

Such a remedy is Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. In thousands of cases it has accomplished just the work you need performed now.

Sample Bottle of Swamp-Root Free by Mail.

Send to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. It will convince anyone. You will also receive a booklet of valuable information, telling all about the kidneys and bladder. When writing, be sure and mention the La Crosse Daily Tribune. For sale at all drug stores. Price fifty-cents and one-dollar.

A Wall Flower

Directly Mathilda arrives at a ball
Her program is always complete,
Her personal charm, as you know, is but small,
And she's not very light on her feet;
Her steps are not sound. When she's waltzing around
Brave men and fair women turn pallid
Against whom she barges. (They pay heavy charges
To doctors as soon as they've rallied.)

It's justice to note she's the first to agree
That her likeness to Venus is nil.
Matilda has also admitted that she
Has none of Tersichore's skill.
But she oft mentions how she is pledged by a vow
('Twas made in her very first season)
That partners hhe'd find; for her logical mind
Said: "Matter is subject to reason."

It's thus that Matilda ne'er sits out alone,
Her theory's never gone wrong.
She weighs (at a guess about twenty-two stone,
She's tall and excessively strong.
She doesn't say much, but her actions are such
That, losing command of your wits, you
Implore her to dance, for you see at a glance
That she knows the last word in jiu jitsu.

Why the Judge Didn't Win

The last time Senator Warner passed through to St. Louis, he explained what had theretofore been a great political mystery.

"Judge Selden P. Spencer of St. Louis was a candidate before the last republican state convention," said the senator. "The judge had a strong following and it seemed to be a foregone conclusion that he would win.

"In addition to his St. Louis friends he was backed by the strong Kansas City delegation, under the leadership of State Chairman Dickey. Conventions, however, are peculiar things. It is said that you can never tell what a jury or a convention will do, and I am inclined to think that is true.

"Dr. Alonzo Tubbs of Gasconade county presented Judge Spencer's name to the convention. He made a rattling good speech for Judge Spencer, but in the midst of it I observed a hurried conference in the rear of the hall among the negro delegates.

"When the roll call began the negroes all voted against Judge Spencer, and their votes was sufficient to turn the tide and cause his defeat. As the convention was adjourning I called one of my negro friends and asked him why his men voted against Judge Spencer.

"'Why, senatoh,' the negro replied, 'most ob de cullud delegates are babahs and waitahs. Dey didn't have nothin' agin Judge Spencer—he's a fine man, he is—but you know dat Doctah Tubbs. He's de author of de anti-tippin' bill. He's de man we was after, an' we had to vote agin the judge to git de doctah.'"—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Remembered

Blinks, after inviting to dinner his friend Jinks, who had just returned from abroad, was teling him what a fine memory his little son Bobby had. "And do you suppose he will remember me?" said Jinks. "Remember you? Why, he remembers every face he ever saw." An hour later they entered the house, and, after Jinks had shaken hands with Mrs. Blinks, he called Bobby over to him. "And do you remember me, my little man?" "Course I do. You're the same feller than pa brought last summer, and ma was so wild about it that she didn't speak to pa for a whole week."—Kansas City Star.

Interrupted the Wedding

The other day at the Shawnee county courthouse. Probate Judge Schock was about to marry a young couple. He pronounced the preliminary words and told them to join hands and started on the ceremony.

"Hey, there! Hold up a minute! Wait I say!" This series of startling exclamations came from the door.

The groom was horrified; the bride bady scared.

"Just a minute. I want to give you each an apple before you are married" said the man who had made the noise. And in he calmly walked and handed each of them a Grimes Golden.

It was one man's idea of a joke.—Kansas City Journal.

His Life Was Too Monotonous

"You need a change," said the physician.

"In what way, doc?"

"Your life is altogether too monotonous."

"You surprise me."

It's true. Any man who doesn't get into bed until morning and then gets up in the morning, too, is leading too monotonous a life."—Cleveland Pain Dealer.

Uncle Sam Says Don't Eat Bleached Flour Bread

The U. S. Government, through its Expert Pure Food Department, has made a ruling that all flour bleached is in direct violation of the National Pure Food Laws, and it has served a general notice that all flour now made after a bleaching process must conform to the Pure Food Requirements (be unbleached) or it will not be permitted sold.

The bleaching process is done with peroxide of nitrogen. Thus a low grade and inferior wheat can be used and the difference is not discernible to the ordinary customer. This practice cannot be construed otherwise than to deceive the public into buying an inferior baking flour.

MARVEL Flour is made, and always has been made, from the highest grade hard wheat, the most perfect grown. It is not bleached, or ever has been, and our mill does not have to alter its method of flour production to comply with the law. Why bake your bread from a flour which the Government says is made in violation of its Pure Food Laws? Why not secure a pure and perfect flour, made from a high-grade wheat, milled after the most sanitary and health-giving mode of natural milling?

If you make your own bread, cake and pastry, demand of your grocer MARVEL Flour. If he cannot supply you send us his name and we'll see that he does. If you use baker's bread, ask for bread made from MARVEL Flour. It costs no more and is absolutely pure—of this you may be certain.

Listman Mill Company, La Crosse, Wisconsin

Our record for the purity of our MARVEL Flour is one to be proud of. We stand alone today as the only large mill in the U. S. that has never made a bleached flour.

Love The Criminal

By J. B. Harris-Burland.

COPYRIGHTED 1908.

"There is no ned to be angry, Leonore" he replied gently. "We have to talk this thing over quietly. I want to do what is best for the happiness of us both. You know how little love I have to give; but if we are to be happy, I must respect my wife and trust her thoroughly. How is it that you never told me of the death of Laura's child?"

"Why should I tell you? The accident was reported in every newspaper."

"Still, one would think that you would have mentioned it. I'm afraid, Leonore, that you did not wish me to know."

"Why should I conceal it from you?" she cried. "Why should I think you so devoid of all honours as to imagine that the news would make any difference to you? Was I to think that you would break your word to me, if you knew that the tie which bound Laura to her husband was broken?"

A faint flush came into Shil's white cheek. The argument was unanswerable.

"Well, Leonore," he replied, after a pause, "we will let that pass, though it is odd you snould never have mentioned a matter of such importance. But there is another question I want you to answer. Is it true that you were once the wife of Sir William Tankerlane, and that you only divorced him three months ago?"

Leonore looked at him with terror in her eyes. She knew that sooner or later this question might have to be answered. But she did not expect it to fall from the lips of a man whose only happiness in life could come fro mmarriage to a woman who loved him.

"Is this true?" Shil repeated, sternly.

"Yes," she replied in a low voice, "it is true. Who told you?"

"Laura. I thought it merely the raving of a disordered mind. It was impossible to believe it."

"It is true enough. I intended to tell you before we were married. Of course I knew that Laura or her husband would tell you."

She spoke defiantly. She knew that the mere fact of her having been married to Tankerlane would have but little weight with John Shil. She only feared the inference he would draw from the fact.

For his part he was too astounded to form any definite ideas on the matter. The confession had started a dozen different trains of thought, and the whole history of the lives of Leonore, Laura and William Tankerlane required readjustment. He passed his big bony hand across his forehead, and tried to see things in the new light which had been thrown upon them. His first thought was for Laura, and it was of her that he spoke after a long silence.

"Then you," he said slowly, "you were Tankerlane's legal wife, when he first went through a form of marriage with Laura, and the child was illegitimate."

She did not answer. She had thrown herself into a chair, and was staring at him with fear in her eyes. She knew to what end this train of thought would lead him.

"Laura," he continued, gripping the edge of his chair, "was Tankerlane's mistress. I will remember that."

She did not speak, but she trembled as she saw the fury gathering in his hard face.

"This man," he shouted, rising to his feet with clenched hands and a face distorted with rage, "dishonoured her, and she sold herself to him in order that I might escape the consequences of my crime. I will remmember that, Tankerlane; I will remember that."

"No," cried Leonore, "you are mistaken. Not even for you would Laura have sold her honour. She thought that she was Tankerlane's wife, till we all three chanced to meet in Paris. I had not then seen him for many years."

"And you told her the truth?"

"I told her the truth. She was a great friend of mine, and I thought it better that she should know. I saw that she wanted some excuse—some reason for leaving him. I offered to divorce him, so that he could marry her, and make some amends for his dishonourable conduct. But she would not hear of it; she insisted on leaving him. She did not know—she did not suspect—there is nothing else that I need tell you."

"Yes," Shil said slowly, "there is something else that I wish to know. When did you persuade her to marry Tankerlane? Was it that time when I followed you to Widley Street?"

"Yes," she replied, "was it not the right thing to do? There was the child to be thought of, and her own good name. They were married at a registry office. In the eyes of the world they have been married for over two years. No breath of scandal has touched her reputation, until the day you—"

"Don't speak of me," he exclaimed. "I would do as much again if I thought it would serve her. But, Leonore, tell me why you went out of your way to persuade Laura to marry Tankerlane?"

"I did the right thing," she replied angrily; "there was nothing else that she could do—but I did not come here to be cross-examined. I came because I wanted to see you, and to help you; because I thought you were in trouble, and lonely, and that you would like the company—of a friend."

Her voice faltered, and her eyes filled with tears. The man, bent and rugged, still stood before her, and his great body towered above her, as though he were going to strike. His hands were clenched, his face was hard and cruel, his voice cold and judicial.

"You will best help me," he said quietly, "by telling me the truth. You persuaded Laura to marry Tankerlane in order that she could not marry me. is that not so?"

She cowered back from him, as though he had struck her in the face, and placed her hands over her eyes.

"Oh, this is cruel," she sobbed, "this is brutal, inhuman, monstrous."

"Yet it is the truth," he continued sternly; "and it is also true that Tankerlane swore an oath to you never to speak of what he saw in the wood at Laverstone, and that you paid him a price for that oath, and the price you paid was this—you divorced him so that he should be fre to marry Laura Vane."

"Oh, this is horrible," she chrieked, rising to her feet, and pressing her fingers to her ears. "Sit down, and turn your face from me. Be silent. Even if all this were true, you should be the last to reproach me—you, for whom I would do anything. Hasn't God punished you and brought you to the dust, and taught you charity, and kindness, and honour. I am the woman you asked to be your wife. Is that not enough to protect me from your insults? Is not my love for you worthy of some respect ,some consideration, some tenderness? Have you no shame, no thought for one who has given you all her heart and soul?"

"Steady, Leonore," he replied gently. "I do not reproach you. I am only asking you these questions in order that I may learn the truth."

"You are asking them in order to make me feel ashamed of what I have done. But I do not care. I would do it all again—I use your own words—I would do more — I would do anything in the name of love."

ANOTHER WONDER OF SCIENCE.

Biology Has Proved that Dandruff Is Caused by a Germ.

Science is doing wonders these days in medicine as well as in mechanics. Since Adam lived, the human race has been troubled with dandruff, for which no hair preparation has heretofore proved a successful cure until Newbro's Herpicide was put on the market. It is a scientific preparation that kills the germ that makes dandruff or scurf by digging into the scalp to get at the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality; causing itching scalp, falling hair, and finally baldness. Without dandruff hair must grow luxuriantly. It is the only destroyer of dandruff. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Superstiton of Bismark

Bismark had an intense aversion to thirteen but a veneration for the number three. His reasons for his predilection were that he served three masters; he was responsible for and fought in three great wars; he signed three treaties of peace; he arranged the meeting of three Emperors; he established the triple alliance. In Franco-German war three horses were killed under him; he had three names (Bismark, Schonhausen and Lauenberg;) he acquired three titles (count, prince, duke;) the ancient arms of his family are a leaf of clover and three oak leaves. His family motto: "In Trinitate Robur" ("Strength in Trinity",) was surely in itself sufficient to give a leaning in this particular direction. So closely were his feelings associated with the triple number that the caricaturists represented him with three hairs on his head. Has had three children. —New York Sun.

"You'd hardly expect to find a sense of humor in prison officials, says an American representative on the international prison commission, "but during an inspection made by some Americans interested in penal matters of a penitentiary in England one of us was thus surprised."

"'I presume,' observed the American, 'that here, as elsewhere, you prison officials find existence painful enough.'

"'I think you may fairly say so, sir,' responded the warden, with a grim smile, 'seeing the number of felons we have on our hands.'"—Lippincott's.

LAUNDRY IS SAVED FROM DESTRUCTION

Promptness of Firemen Saves North Side Place of Business This Morning

DAMAGE WILL REACH $200

Fire Loss Is But $50, But Water Will Cause a Loss of Thrice That Much

The promptness of the firemen of Station No. 2 was all that saved the North Side Laundry, 728 Mill street, from being consumed by fire which broke out in the northeast portion of t he building at 9:30 o'clock this morning.

One of the employes of the laundry noticed a cloud of smoke ascending from the basement and an alarm was immediately turned in. The flames crawled up through the partition to the attic and it was in this portion of the building that the fire was confined.

The damage by fire amounts to $50 and about $150 by water.

Except for a slight inconvenience the work in the laundry was not hindered to any extent.

Men past middle life have found comfort and relief in Foley's kidney remedy, especially for enlarged prostate gland, which is very common among elderly men. L. E. Morris, Dexter, Ky., writes: "Up to a year ago my father suffered from kidney and bladder trouble and several physicians pronounced it enlargement of the prostate gland and advised an operation. BANK ROBBER UNDER ARREST AT SPARTA

One of Men Who Robbed Warrens Bank Captured at Wausaukee by the Sparta Sheriff

SPARTA, Wis., June 29.—(Special.)—Slipping into a house at Wausaukee, Wis., where James McCarey, leader of the Warrens bank robbers, was calling on a friend, special deputy state game warden George Mannell of Sparta got the drop on him and although McCarey was armed with a .38 revolver marched him to the hotel where Sheriff Henry had remained, and the latter handcuffed him. Mannell is also deputy sheriff of Monroe county.

McCarey was living with a woman at Wausaukee under the alias of George Stuart. He has been missing since the Warrens robbery, at which time he escaped. His pals, Jim Clearmont and Jim Radley were arrested, but later escaped by means of rope blankets, and it is believed McCarey helped them from the outside.

Saturday Sheriff Henry received a telephone message from Wausaukee that this man was in Wausaukee and had been working there for some time at his trade in a paper mill.

McCarey was brought to Sparta last night by his captor and Sheriff Henry. His accomplices are still at liberty.

McCarey is known to Pinkerton detectives as a slick thief and had eluded the officers ever since the arrest, often times boldly presenting himself to officers of the law in different cities and shaking their hands and talking to them. Afterwards when he was safely out of their reach he would drop a postal card telling them of his identity at a time when they were hunting his trail, but before the officers could reach him he was gone.

McCarey is described as being 29 years old, with light brown hair, blue eyes and light complexion. He is a paper maker by trade and has lived in the northern part of the state for some time. It is claimed that his family are well-to-do, respectable people living in the eastern part of the state. McCarey has had a good education and is known to the authorities throughout the state as a slick one.

It is stated that McCarey has been in Sparta and was entertained by a family in this city some years ago.

McCarey has a police record in the state and is supposed to have had a hand in several bank robberies that have been pulled off in Wisconsin within the past year. It is thought that he was a leader of the Merrill bank robbers.

Train Strikes Man

Fast train No. 5 on the Milwaukee road struck a rig in which Alfred Meyer was driving from Bangor to his home in Dutch Creek, throwing Meyer ten feet into the air and killing both horses instantly and completely demolishing the buggy.

Meyers' injuries are internal, no bones being broken and it is not known what the exact extent of his injuries may be. He is being cared for by Drs. Evans and Taylor at the Elsen House in Bangor.

The accident happened at the brewery crossing, the train in charge of Engineer Brewer and Conductor Cunningham, coming down upon him before he could cross the tracks to safety. One of the horses was thrown over a coal car forty feet in the air. The train was making a speed of about 40 miles per hour and the engineer did not see Meyer in time to apply the brakes quick enough to avert the accident.

RED WING FLYER TO SEEK NEW LAURELS

There will be motorboat races July 3, 4 and 5 at Wabasha, and at Red Wing, July 5, and in both events the famous Red Wing Flyer, champion of the upper Mississippi, will be out after new speed records. The Flyer had everything on the upper river "beaten to a turn" last year, the nearest approach to the flyer being the Yellow Sallie of Winona, which was three minutes behind the fast Red Wing boat in the Fountain City-to-Winona race. The Flyer is in the same condition she was when that race was run, except for the fact all under water surfaces have been smoothened and sharpened, an exact wheel installed and minor improvements made upon her six-cylinder engine. J. R. Trautner, owner of the boat, expects to clean up everything in the races. It is possible the "Red Top," a Davenport speed boat, may be entered.

AIRDOME WILL BE POPULAR RESORT

Great Crowd Attends Formal Opening of Open Air Theater Last Evening

If the opening night crowd may be taken as indicative the new Airdome theater on North Third street will enjoy a large measure of prosperity between the present time and the close of the summer season. Airdome has been arranged with an attractive front, and the performances are given in the open air. Last night band concerts attracted large crowds, and besides a capacity house the court house park was well filed with listeners enjoying the concert.

The acts given at the Airdome include W. J. McDermott, a comical and entertaining hobo; E. C. Raymond sang "Clover blossoms" an illustrated song, with good voice; Geo. H. Emerick's sketch was put on by Georgia Gardner and company and contained a good share of the evening's comedy; Bessie Greenwood, a soprano of merit has a sweet voice which was much appreciated; the Reckless Recklow company in cycling and skating feats and the motion pictures wound up the show which was an exceptionally good one, and one which is bound to draw large patronage.

The Airdome is under the management of A. Nelson and E. L. Dowling of Eau Claire.

POLICE ARE AFTER BICYCLE THIEVES

The police department is busy searching for bicycle thieves who have been operating in the city for the past few days. Two wheels were stolen from the Reitzel store, one Saturday and one Monday night. A lock was broken from one. The police say a favorite method of the thieves is to repaint the wheels, but this does not serve as a disguise, as both of these wheels have private marks which will make their identification an easy matter. Other thefts have been reported within the past week an darrests are expected.

The wedding of iMss Helen Tofte and Mr. Clarence Bowers will occur tomorrow.

WEDDING OF MISS AGNES NELSON AND MR M'NAMER

There was a pretty wedding this morning when Miss Agnes Robertina, daughter of Mrs. N. R. Nelson, became the bride of Mr. Harry Carlton McNamer of Chicago. The ceremony took place at 9 o'clock at Christ church, the Rev. C. N. Moller officiating. The bride was attended by her twin sister, Miss Nora Nelson, while Mr. Maurice Moe, Milwaukee, acted as best man. The ushers were Messrs. Austin Cargill, Myron Savage and George Irvine. As the wedding party entered the church, Prof. Cawley, the organist, played the wedding march. Just before the ceremony, Miss Ida Aiken sang in a beautiful and impressive manner "A Song of Thanksgiving."

A reception was held at the home of the bride, between the hours of 10 and 12, about one hundred invitations being issued. The dining room decorations were red and green. Mrs. Gunderson and Mrs. O. R. Skaar presided at the table, assisted by the Misses Martha Lightbody, Blanche Holcomb, Beatrice Leissring, Gertrude Hulberg, Hazel Josten and May James. These young ladies were all members of a little club to which the bride also belonged. Mrs. Theodore Thompson served the punch. The house was dainty and pretty with its decorations of marguerites and smilax, which were arranged with excellent taste, the cool green and white being a pleasing contrast to the intensely hot weather out of doors.

The bride wore a handsome gown of white embroidered net and carried a shower bouquet of sweet peas. The maid of honor wore a sheer white Paris mull and carried a bunch of daisies. The out-of-town guests were Miss Daisy McNamer of Antioch, Ill., sister of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Brown of Evanston, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rogers and Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Larson of Viroqua.

Mr. and Mrs. McNamer left at noon today on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul road via Chicago for Denver, which will be their home.

A number of farewell affairs were given in honor of the bride, among them being a hosiery shower at the home of Mrs. Gunderson Friday evening, by the members of the Ibsen club of which the bride's mother is a member. Mrs. C. A. Olberg read an original poem apropos to the occasion.

REV. MOLLER ENTERTAINS

Rev. C. N. Moller, rector of Christ church, entertained the choir of that church last evening at a launch ride with supper at Ferndale. After refreshments the party continued their trip up the river for a number of miles, returning by moonlight. There were about twenty-five in the party.

NIGHT CREW ON DELAYED SEWER

Beginning tonight at 6 o'clock a night crew will be employed at the construction of the sewer on Mississippi street, to make up for delay caused when the work on the sewer was stopped by the board of public works. This will necessitate the necessity the hiring of a new crew of men. With the added force of men it is expected that the job will easily be finished before the expiration of the time designated in the contract.

The concrete walks on the approach to the Mississippi river wagon bridge were finished yesterday and will be ready for use in a day. This is largely a matter of experiment with the board of public works and if successful will be extended further along the bridge.

Mr. Farr is fearful that serious complications may develop from the bite.

LURES AND SHOOTS HIS OLD ENEMY

Man Who Served Term on Testimony of Enemy Attacks Him in Auto but Is Also Shot

CHICAGO, June 29.—Decoyed to ride in an automobile in order to talk about a cattle deal, but seeking revenge for a past injury, resulted in the serious wounding of James Dorsey, a cattle man of Gilbirds, Ills., and aso the shooting of C. C. Walker of Fayette, Mo., last night. Both men are in a hospital here today and Dorsey is in a serious condition.

According to the story told the police by Walker, he was confined in a jail in Mexico three years ago through the testimony of Dorsey and since that time he has avowed revenge. He said he waited in Chicago to meet Dorsey and yesterday discovered him here. MondayWalker telephoned Dorsey to meet him but gave the name of Graham. Later a small man giving the name of Graham located Dorsey at the stock yards and announced they would take an automobile ride and talk business. When they entered the automobile Walker was already there but Dorsey failed to recognize him. Walker allowed Graham to do all the talking.

When the machine stopped in a crowd the two men sprang out of the machine at the same time Walker drew a revolver and fired twice at Dorsey. Dorsey struggled with Walker and succeeded in grabbing the revover and shot Walker in the head.

Both injured men were taken to the hospital but Graham escaped. At the hospital Dorsey discovered he had lost a valuable diamond pin and his pocketbook containing $30. Dorsey is shot in the abdomen.

BIJOU CLOSES A BIG SEASON

The Bijou theater, which during the past season has enjoyed the greatest measure of prosperity since its opening several years ago, will be closed for the summer season at the end of the present week by Manager Frank Koppelberger.

The Bijou has been one of the most successful of the family theaters on this circuit and enjoys an enormous trade, in fact the immense patronage of the Bijou is one of the reasons Manager Koppelberger became inspired to arrange for the construction of the handsome new Majestic theater building, which is now being erected up on Main street, one of the best locations in the city.

The Bijou has always presented a clean and entertaining show and has won the steady patronage of a large portion of the residents of La Crosse. The Bijou will reopen for the fall season on August 16. It is possible that the new Majestic will not be ready for the opening until after the first of next year, as the foundations are not yet completed.

BOAT DISASTER IS FAULT OF OWNERS

KILLARNEY, June 29.—Despite the verdict of the coroner's jury that the boating disaster in which several American and English tourists lost their lives, was the fault of no one, the recommendation of the jury that all such boats be strictly inspected has provoked the suspicion that the jurors considered some evidence of carelessness.

The boat was 14 years old and was condemned three years ago but was subsequently overhauled and again placed in service. One of the boatmen, Gleeson, was over 70 years old and was partly paralyzed. Another, Lynch, was known as a common drunk.

AUTO CRACKSMEN ROB POSTOFFICE

CHICAGO, June 29.—Three masked men riding in an auto early today dynamited the safe in the postoffice at Leland, Ill., and escaped with $5,000 in money and stamps, after a fight with citizens. The fact that the men used an automobile leads the authorities to believe they are the same "automobile bandits" who have robbed half dozen postoffices through out Illinois recently.

LA CRSSSE FEELS SWELTERING HEAT

Yesterday Was a Sizzler and Today Is Hot, But No Prostrations Are Reported

Sunday the thermometers at various places in the city registered as high as 94 degrees but the official figures of the U. S. weather bureau give it as 88 degrees. Yesterday was the record breaker, the mercury ascending nearly to the top of the tube and a temperature of 90 degrees being recorded at the weather bureau.

At 12 o'clock today the thermometer at Irvine's jewelry store registered 93 degres and it certainly gave assurance of a record breaker as a hot day. With but little breeze it promises to be very close and uncomfortable.

As far as can be learned no fatalities have resulted from the sudden rise in temperature.

Of the Romans Cicero was democratic, and Paul was eminently so, and nothing ever written was more so than Virgil.

In modern English literature the democratic spirit has been expressed by all its greatest exponents —Witness Bunyan, Shakespeare and the modern novelists Thackeray, Geo. Eliot, Dickens. Balzac came from the Bourgeois, and Tolstoi is so democratic that he is revolutionary.

BECKMAN'S SLAYER SOUGHT CZAR'S LIFE

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, June 29.—Although he refused to divulge the names of his co-conspirators, Adolph Vang, the assassin of Gen. Beckman, confessed on his deathbed that he had been commissioned by the anarchists to kill the czar of Russia and that he was only prevented by his inability to get within striking distance. Vang confessed that he had no personal motive to kill Beckman but said that he shot the first high official he could reach in order to convince his anarchistic comrades of his good faith.

"The czar cannot escape," it is claimed Vang said. "He and his are watched day and night and every city he visits where public functions are held, a comrade will be in waiting to make an attempt to end the tyrant's life."

BEST MEDICINE FOR WEAK NERVES

A Wisconsin Woman Who Is Enthusiastic About the Remedy That Cured Her.

Why are nervous people invariably pale people? The answer to that question explains why a remedy that acts on the blood can cure nervous troubles. It explains why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are also for nervous people.

It is because of the intimate relation between the red corpuscles in the blood and the health of the nerves. The nervous system receives its nourishment as well as its medicine through the blood. Let the blood become thin, weak and colorless and the nerves are starved—the victim is started on the road that leads to nervous wreck.

Mrs. F. Bell, of R. F. D. No. 18, Brookfield, Wis., suffered with nervous prostration until she used the tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The cure the pills effected in her case is explained by their direct action on the blood. She says:

"I was left in a very nervous condition after a severe sickness. I was so weak that I could hardly walk without stumbling. My illness affected my stomach so I had but little appetite and could not retain food. I did not have a particle of color and kept losing in weight until I was a shadow. I think my blood was turning to water. I would get so nervous at times that I could hardly control myself. My sleep was broken.

"The doctors called my illness nervous prostration. I grew worse under their treatment and the medicine they gave me was so strong that I was finally unable to retain it. An uncle advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and after taking a few boxes I noticed I was getting stronger. I continued with them until cured. Since taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I have been in good health and I certainly think they are the best medicine for weak nerves. I hope my statement may be the means of bringing the attention of other sufferers to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

If you have weak nerves send today for a copy of our booklet on the home treatment of nervous disorders. It is free.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50c. per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

CORONER'S JURY LEAVES CASE OPEN

known the case now evolves these facts:

That Edith Woodill had known "Lame Bob" Eastman in New York, where as a stock broker he had invested some money for her and won for her a small fortune.

That they continued to be friendly and when he (Eastman) jumped bail he went to Los Angeles where she was living with her husband and asked her to help him.

That she did help him with money and finally suggested that for a man who was trying to hide from justice no better place could be found than at St. Michaels.

That he went there and she followed and loaned him money when his funds ran out.

That his demands for money finally became incessant and that the edges of friendship became ragged.

That when she denied his entreaties he reminded her that he had made her a fortune and that finally when she refused him more, he became enraged and decoyed her to his home for the purpose of compromising her so that he might enforce his demands.

That when, finally, on Sunday night he demanded more money she told him that when she went home she would denounce him and tell the authorities that he was not Roberts but "Lame Bob" Eastman for whose arrest a reward had been offered.

Then the desperate criminal, thwarted in his plans to get money from her, is believed to have murdered her and cast her weighted body in the river.

Leaves Case Open

The jury of inquest today rendered a verdict that leaves the case open to question. They decided that Eastman "then and there, feloniously killed or was accessory to the crime of the murder of the said Edith Mal Woodill" but the sheriff's deputies and the local police force have satisfied themselves that no one but Eastman was responsible for the murder and there the matter rests.

Vinnie Bradcome the actress-wife of "Lame Bob" Eastman, whom he deserted in New Pork to flee from the law, left for New York today after being assured that the estate of the dead man would be hers and whatever was realized from its sale would be sent to her.

Wife Spurns Mourning

Mrs. Eastman, who refused to wear mourning for the murdered who has never seen his baby, paid what she declares her last visit to the place before she left for New York this morning. She planted a tomatoe vine still called the "love apple" in Talbott county, on the grave.

"I never want to see this place again," she said in an answer to a question as to whether she would make her home here if she gained possession of the estate. "It means nothing to me but a horrible story of blood and shame. I am going back to my boy and my own life and try to forget this night mare. I never want the boy to know what terrible disgrace his father has brought on his name."

WAS MURDER MEANT?

that the final announcement of a settlement came about as a complete surprise. The task of notifying the strikers in time to get crews to man the cars at 5 o'clock this morning fell to the officials of the strikers. They started to work at once. It was a herculanean task. Few of the men themselves had been expecting a settlement. Committes of the different local unions went scurrying in every direction to notify the men to report for duty and at 5 o'clock all of the schedules were resumed.

Victory is Comp'ete

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 29.—That the victory gained by the striking employes of the Pittsburg Railways Company is the greatest and most decisive ever won in this country by organized labor, is the opinion of President W. D. Mahon of the National Assn. of Street Railway employes.

"Every point for which the men contended," declared President Mahon, "has been conceded which is conclusive evidence that they were right in the position they had taken. The public supported us nobly."

question as to whether Motormen Thrun and Sprout should be reinstated by the company and lastly the laying off of all employes who have served the company as "strikebreakers."

A meeting will be held this evening between the officers of the traction company and the committee from the union and an agreement will be made if possible. In case however it is impossible for the two committees to come to a settlement, the matter will be left to arbitration, a committee of three disinterested arbitrators being provided for in yesterday's agreement, who will have the power to act in this contingency. One of the arbitrators will be appointed by the car men, one by the company and the remaining one is to be appointed by the other two. In case an agreement is reached the arbitrating committee will not be selected.

At midnight tonight, the carmen will assemble at Labor hall to talk over the situation. Fred Fay, a member of the Executive committee of the National association will address the meeting. International Secretary Reeves of the carmen's association has left the city.

Thanks for Sympathy

The carmen are very grateful to the people of the city for the support they have been given in their battle for reinstatement and at the meeting yesterday afternoon the following resolutions were passed:

Whereas, on June 22nd, the La Crosse City Railway company locked from employment the members of Division No. 519, Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employes of America as a denial of the acknowledged right of wage earners to organize, thereby violating the fundamental principle of equal rights so necessary for the stability of American liberty, and

Whereas, a protest against such an unpatriotic attempt to arouse class contention was so immediate, unanimous and emphatic on part of the people of La Crosse, that equal privilege has been again restored and the right re-established, and

Whereas, we, the members of said Division, No. 519, of the Street and Electric Railway Employes' association, are directly, and we believe, immeasurably benefited by such concerted demand for right, and its success, therefore be it

Resolved, that we hereby publicly acknowledged the munificent interest in our welfare that the people of our city have asserted, express our most sincere gratitude for the creditable manner in which they guarded our rights and tender to all the people of our city, in expression of our gratitude, our sincere thanks.

Resolved, that we acknowledge full recognition that the course of our beloved fellow citizens who so loyally sustained us in the principle for right, was that of true American manhood and womanhood that has signalized every promotive event and which stands for the dignity of labor and as a bulwark of true American liberty.

Resolved, that we call upon all organized wage earners of our city who so encouraged us with their assurances of support, to unite with us in a department that will demonstrate to our loyal city the full worthiness of the cause and principles of our grand trade union movement in our work of moral, mental and industrial uplift. S.S.S. PURELY VEGETABLE

The absolute vegetable purity of S. S. S. has always been one of the strongest points in its favor, and is one of the principal reasons why it is the most widely known and universally used of all blood medicines. A great many of the so-called blood purifiers are really nothing more than strong mineral mixtures which act so unpleasantly and disastrously on the delicate membranes and tissues of the stomach and bowels, that even if such treatment purified the blood, the condition in which the digestive system is left would often be more damaging to the health than the original trouble. Not so with S. S. S.—it is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and at the same time is an absolutely safe and harmless remedy. It is made entirely of the healing and cleansing extracts and juices of roots, herbs and barks, each of which is in daily use in some form by physicians in their practice. Years of work and research have proven S. S. S. to contain everything necessary to purify the blood and at the same time supply the system with the purest and best tonic effects. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison and all other blood troubles, and it leaves the system in perfect condition when it has purified the blood. Book containing much valuable information on the blood and any medical advice desired sent free to all who write.

The Detroit Americans defeated Chicago 2 to 1 in a hard fought ten inning game which was marked by considerable wranging. Atz Cobb, and Schaefer were put out of the game for disputing decisions. A two bagger by Killifer and Schmidt's single won the game for Detroit in the tenth. The fielding feature was a spectacular catch of a bunt fly by Stanage.

New York defeated Philadelphia, 2 to 1. After two were out in the ninth inning, New York scored two runs on Elberfeld's single, four balls to Chase, a wild pitch by Morgan, and Enge's single.

Boston made it four out of five on the series by defeating Washington, 6 to 5. Both sides used three pitchers. O'Loughlin's decision failed to please the spectators and he had to be escorted to the cars by the poice.

St. Louis defeated Cleveland by bunching hits off Pelty in the first inning, scoring a total of three runs which placed the game out of the danger period. When the dust had settled, the Browns had applied the calcimine in great style, winning by the score of 6 to 0.

National League

Timely hitting won Monday's game the Pittsburg Nationas. On two occasions Cincinnati secured two base hits, but were unable to score. A fast double play with the bases full saved the day for Pittsburg in the seventh inning.

Philadelphia won the first game of a scheduled double header 5 to 3, the second game having been postponed on account of a heavy shower which started after the finish of the first game. The visitors won in the eighth when Ward, batting for Corridon, hit safely, bringing in two runs.

DEER HUNTING IN WISCONSIN

Max Worden and John Timberlake Kill Six in One Afternoon

"It was up in the North part of Sawyer County, in the Round Lake country," said Worden, a trapper and hunter, known all over the State of Wisconsin.

"John and I were in a canoe on 'Little Duck Lake.' Just as we rounded the point of the South Island, we saw a big buck standing between two poplars on the South shore of the lake. His head was thrown well up and he sniffed the air suspiciously, as if he already knew he was in the region of danger.

"We weren't in a position to get a good shot, so we backed the canoe carefully around the point of the island and hit it up at full speed for the West shore. There we beached the canoe and took to the woods. But as we had feared, the deer took a notion to move on before we got to him. We were just half way down to the Southwest 'horn' of the lake when we spied him loping Northward. He was about 200 yards West of us running along the bottom of a little valley, and going at such a clip, I knew it was now or never.

"So I brought my gun to position on a little clearing about a hundred feet ahead of his course, and when he broke into it, I fastened the sights on him and pulled the trigger. It was one of the longest and most difficult shots I ever made—in fact, I didn't really make it as I only got him in the flank. It didn't seem to cripple him much, as he began to run faster than ever.

"But John said he believed I had him and that he wouldn't be able to hold the gait, so we hiked Northward again after him. There's an arm of Lost Land Lake that runs down to within a stone's throw of Little Duck Lake, about a mile and a quarter north of where I made my shot, and we knew if we could beat him to that, we'd have him headed off.

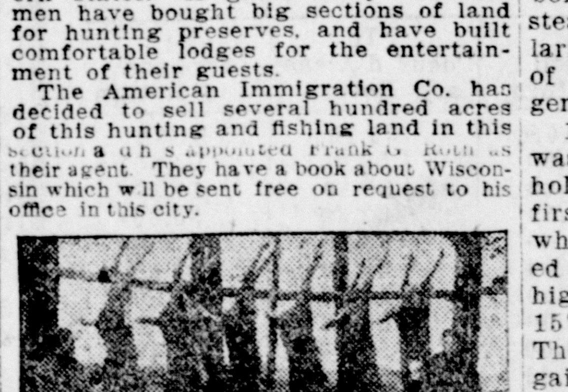
"So we started a race with that deer—we running along the ridge and the deer down in the valley. But gradually the elevation of the ridge dropped down until we had reached the low neck of the land between the two lakes. I believe we made that mile and a quarter in world's record time—but the deer evidently wasn't as wounded as we thought, for he had passed through ahead of us, leaving a more or less bloody trail behind.

"Well, to make a long story short, we followed that trail for over eight miles, up past the North end of Beaver Lake and then West and North almost to the Bayfield County line, where he finally gave out, and where I finished him off with a head shot. And it was coming back in the afternoon around the West shore of Spider Lake that we ran into our 'big' luck and got the six deer we've got strung up here."

The photograph is taken from a temporary camp, established by the two hunters at the small lake a few miles South of the "Spider." Worden claims to have shot over two hundred deer, and thirty or forty bears, all in Wisconsin. The bear are found mostly in the counties further North and West.

The American Immigration Co., who owns over a million acres of land in the Round Lake country, claim that each season an average of fifteen hundred men come up there for the hunting. They come from Chicago, Minneapolis, Superior, Duluth, St. Paul and even from more distant cities of the Central and Western states. A great many of these men have bought big sections of land for hunting preserves, and have built comfortable lodges for the entertainment of their guests.

The American Immigration Co. has decided to sell several hundred acres of this hunting and fishing land in this section and has appointed Frank G. Roth as their agent. They have a book about Wisconsin which will be sent free on request to his office in this city.



Photograph of Max Worden and John Timberlake and their one-day kill of deer. Other photographs and complete description of this hunting country can be obtained by writing to the AMERICAN IMMIGRATION CO., Chippewa Falls, Wis.

FOREIGN MARKETS

New York Stock

NEW YORK, June 29.—There was a moderate activity in the dealing in the stock market and a generally firm tone prevailed. Reading opened up 1-4 but receded 3-8 and Deleware and Hudson gained 3-4. Rock Island gained 3-4. The Harriman issues were fractionally higher. In the metal group, United States Steel advanced 5-8 and Colorado Fuel 1-2. Interborough Metropolitan stocks were steady. Although not without irregularity after the first fifteen minutes of trading the undertone remained generally strong.

11 A. M.—Although the market was to a great extent of an enforced holiday character, the tone during the first hour was generally strong and where any price movements occurred they were mostly to moderately higher levels. Reading rose to above 157 but later lost all its early gain. The Harriman stocks made fractional gains and the industrials generally shared in a general advance. Inter-Met. was the only weak feature.

Governments unchanged; other bonds strong.

Noon—The market while extremely dull showed a strong tone in nearly all stocks with advances wherever there was any display of activity. Amalgamated Copper, on some covering of shorts, advanced 1 point, selling at 82 and there was a persistent buying of the Rock Island issues and a number of the important railroad stocks.

PHYSICAL DIRECTOR WILL BE WHIRLWIND

S. A. Boyd of Denver Takes Charge of Work in the New La Crosse Y. M. C. A.

AN EXPERT ON PHYSIOLOGY

Has All the Latest Culture Methods and Diagnoses Cases of Physical Weakness

S. A. Boyd, now assistant physical director at the Denver, Col., Y. M. C. A. who has been engaged as physical director of the La Crosse Y. M. C. A., will begin his work here September 1. While A. C. Gran, the secretary of the local association, was in attendance on the secretaries' conference at Omaha the early part of this month, he eagerly sought for the best available man for the position of director of the physical department in the new building. He learned of the probability of Mr. Boyd leaving the Denver association, where he has been associated as assistant to Dr. W. B. Newhall, the physical director, for two years, and was formerly at Bridgeport, Conn., with Dr. Newhall. Mr. Boyd was persistently sought by severa associations much larger than La Crosse and was offered more alary in two places, but after having the opportunities of the La Crosse field presented to him by Secretary Gran, who also had several other Wisconsin men, notably C. B. Willis of Milwaukee, back up his statements,

S. A. Boyd, New Physical Director at Y. M. C. A.

he took the matter under consideration and before Mr. Gran left Omaha for La Crosse gave assurance that he would come to this city if certain conditions were met. These have been settled and Mr. Boyd will fill the position.

Mr. Boyd is about 5 feet 11 inches in height and weighs 160 pounds. He has had his training in actual service under one of the most efficient directors in the work. He has had two seasons' work at the Silver Bay Summer Institute and will finish his course there this season and graduate. He demonstrated the advanced gymnastic dancing steps with Dr. Newhall at the Omaha convention for the physical directors' society, and has a thorough knowledge of the best and most advanced work being done in the country. He has an expert knowledge of anatomy and physiology and is capable of making a thorough physical diagnosis of bodily defects and weakness.

He has proven himself popular with all classes dealt with in association activity and will undoubtedly prove himself to be a man capable of doing a very efficient work for the men and boys of La Crosse through the agency of the physical department of the Young Men's Christian association. He can be certain of a very cordial reception from the board of directors, the employed officers and members of the local association, as well as from the entire city, when he arrives to take up his work.

MINNESOTA AND THE NORTHWEST

COURT MAY INSIST ON INSANITY PROBE

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 29.—Smiling, perfectly composed and with her veil raised for the first time in court, disclosing her extremely attractive features, Louise Arbogast was brought before Judge O. B. Lewis in the district court yesterday morning for examination as to her sanity.

A civil case was on trial and Judge Lewis said he was not prepared to take up the Arbogast matter yesterday.

"We desire to plead not guilty. I do not think there will be any need of a hearing. Does your honor mean that you will not take the case up now, no matter how brief the proceedings?" said W. D. Mitchell, counsel for Miss Arbogast.

Hearing Is Deferred.

The court said he did not care to go on with the matter and set today for a hearing on the formal question as to whether Louse is now sufficiently sane to conduct a defense to the charge of murdering her father.

The attitude of the defense was as outlined last week—to withdraw the motion for examination of Louise as to her sanity and enter a formal plea of not guilty. County Attorney Richard D. O'Brien does not oppose such a plan. In fact it is known that he does not want the young woman committed to an insane asylum.

FOUR IN JAIL ON MURDER CHARGE

MANKATO, Minn., June 29.—The mystery of the murder of H. J. Leadbeater, whose body was found on his farm Sunday afternoon, remains partially unsolved, though the evidence is slowly accumulating implicating the wife of the murdered man, together with Frank Smith, the hired man, and with Wm Swandt, brother-in-law of the victim.

The evidence also appears to involve Mrs. Leadbeater's sister, Mrs. Swandt.

Deputy Sheriff Phillips returned yesterday from Ferndale, having in custody William A. Swandt, and the four prisoners are now in jail here. Swandt denies all knowledge of the crime, but it is believed he knew, at least, of the killing of Leadbeater.
